Matthew Boulton and the Industrialization of Money

Our August monthly meeting will have the business segment of the club, then, the fun will start. Patty, Tony and I will have items that needed to complete the coin show necessities and we'll be asking those in attendance to help finish up the project. - Dan Carroll

Spence Sunderland accepts a CONA presentation medal from President Steve Petty

While the Red Book lists four varieties of Liberty Seated half dimes, Spence Sunderland said there are actually five. The fifth is a one-year, one-mint type. In 1859, the Philadelphia Mint used dies that were modified by Paquet. The numerals, letters, stars and contours in Liberty's gown are all stylistically distinct.

Bill's update

When I gave my talk about collecting coins from circulation at the May meeting, I had completed the Jefferson nickel set, the Lincoln Memorial set, and the wheaties in book #2.

At that time, I had 35 pennies in book #1, which holds 89 coins (1909-1940) and had searched $3,500 worth of pennies. Since then, I've been lucky enough to add 19 coins to the book and have searched a total of $5,300 worth of pennies.

Thirteen of these pennies came from a mini-hoard that I found in a box that contained 1,262 wheaties! Many rolls contained from 40 to 50 wheaties. I was also able to upgrade several coins in both books. Included in the 1,262 wheaties were 19 steel pennies and many S mints, including six 1955S'. From that one box, I was able to put together a second set of wheaties from book #2. Some of the coins I've recently found are: 1912-D, 13-D, 15, 21-S, 27-S, 31-D, 34-D and 38-D&S.

Green Hats needed

Calling all potential Green Hats that want to be part of CONA Show. There will be sign up sheets at the July and August meeting as well as at the picnic. The show needs all of our members to help out and don a green hat. There are no skill requirements, nobody will be asked to do things beyond their ability or desire but we need our members to make this show complete and fun for the club and our dealers and guests. We'll provide a couple lunches and soft drinks, as well as the traditional pizza party Thursday night for workers and dealers.

Exhibiting

If anyone is interested in exhibiting part of their collection at our upcoming Labor Day Show, please contact Bill Kamb at nfld73h@gmail.com.

Putting together an exhibit is a great way to increase your knowledge of what you have because of the research involved in placing your material in front of the public. After all, you want to get it right.

Bill can go over with you an article about putting together an exhibit that was created by an award winning Central States exhibitor several years ago.

Exhibit space is limited, so don't procrastinate.

Seated Liberty dollar set at Legend auction

Promoted M&S Petty Collection offers 'most affordable' 1870-S silver dollar

by Steve Roach, Coin World Editor-at-Large

Legend will offer a complete set of Seated Liberty silver dollars at its July 28 Regency 53 auction in Las Vegas.

The M&S Petty Collection began as a lightly circulated, Extremely Fine to About Uncirculated set of the series. It eventually turned in a complete set with many high-grade examples carrying famed pedigrees and some with Certified Acceptance Corp. approval.

The collection was put together by Ohio collector Stephen Petty who honors his son, Mark, in the collection's name. Legend wrote, "It is very bittersweet to see this collection cross the block, but it is a lasting legacy for the Petty family in accomplishing something few collectors have: a complete set of Seated Liberty dollars."

The most famed coin in the set is one of nine confirmed examples of the 1870-S Seated Liberty dollar, graded Genuine by Professional Coin Grading Service,

It first appeared at auction in 1926 with the initials F.H.I. engraved in the field, and spent time in the F.C.C. Boyd Collection where it was offered at Numismatic Gallery's sale of the World's Greatest Collection in 1945, with the fields repaired and smoothed.

It most recently sold at a November 2009 Bowers and Merena auction, where it was purchased by this consignor.

It previously was offered at Stack's 73rd Anniversary Sale, Oct. 22, 2008, where it sold for $120,750, then graded Very Fine 30 Details by ANACS, who noted "Repaired. Re-engraved."

The 2008 cataloger wrote, "Close-in examination of the obverse shows obvious metal displacement between Liberty's cap and foot on the viewer's right and between the upper edge of the rock and star 7 on the viewer's left side of the coin, with some porosity around Liberty's head," but summarized that overall, the coin "is above average in quality for a VF Liberty Seated dollar of any date; indeed, the overall reverse sharpness is easily of EF quality in this cataloger's eyes."

They called it a "utilitarian example of one of the great rarities in any denomination or

An MS-64 1850-O Seated Liberty dollar in an older PCGS holder is perhaps the finest-known of this popular New Orleans issue and last sold in 2013 for $105,750.

metal struck by the U.S. Mint, a date with no listed mintage figure and probably only produced to the tune of a dozen or slightly more pieces."

The issue is joined with the 1870-S Seated Liberty half dime and the 1870-S Indian Head $3 coins as extremely rare issues with no contemporary Mint records to support their production.

The "affordable dollar" carries an estimate of $170,000 to $200,000, with Legend acknowledging, "While the problems are easily evident, the eye appeal is actually quite pleasing, considering the flaws. Indeed, these flaws add to the history of this LEGENDARY RARITY!"

Considering that the next-finest is graded Very Fine 25 by PCGS and sold for $705,698 in 2008, Legend warns bidders, "This example is likely the only '70-S dollar that could be had for under that $500,000 level."

Top-quality 1850-O dollar

In contrast with the damaged 1870-S dollar in the Petty consignment, the collection's 1850-O Seated Liberty dollar is perhaps the finest-known of the popular New Orleans Mint issue. Graded Mint State 64 by PCGS with a green CAC sticker, it is from a low mintage of 40,000 pieces, and most survivors, of which there might be as many as 1,500, are in low grades.

Legend cites Paramount's 1979 catalog description of the offered dollar in an era before third-party grading where it was graded "Gem Uncirculated 65." That cataloger praised a bold strike and "beautiful iridescent greenish gold, grey, violet and blue toning."

It was last offered at an August 2013 Stack's Bowers Galleries auction in the same PCGS holder, where it sold for $105,750. The color, then largely unchanged from the 1979 offering, was described as: "Rich teal, lemon, and russet toning graces the entire obverse and reverse, toning that takes many years to form, and accents the luster beneath and enhances the devices."

At Legend it carries an estimate of $120,000 to $140,000 and is one of two certified in this grade at PCGS with none finer. ©

Perhaps the most affordable of the nine confirmed examples of the 1870-S Seated Liberty dollar, this piece is a star of the M&S Petty Seated Liberty Dollar Collection, which will be offered at Legend's Regency 53 auction in Las Vegas.
